Receive critical information quickly

When we have critical information that needs to get to our water members quickly we have found that email is the most effective way to get the message out. We will also use a bulk calling system, but that takes a long time.

During the water shortage, many of you received an email, but many of you did not. Currently, we have the emails of 1147 of our 1635 members registered with us. Our goal is to have all of our members registered for email notification.

Signing up for CRRWater notifications is easy. Go to our website www.crrwater.com and scroll down to Email Alert Notification Signup and fill out the form. If you have multiple emails you want to register, you will have to do each separately. If you want to receive text messages, please fill out the form titled "Text Message Notification."

To access these forms, go to www.crrwater.com/notification, or on your cell phone, aim the camera at the QR code.

Weathering the big freeze

It is that time of the year again when the nights are going to become very cold. Protecting your pipes from the freeze can be missed. Freezing pipes can cause thousands of dollars of damage and they can be a huge inconvenience. There are a few things that we can all do around our homes to help protect against freezing pipes.

- Leave the heat on in the home even when you are going to be gone for an extended length of time.
- First be sure that all your vents under the house are covered, just a little wind under the house can freeze pipes.
- Be sure any exposed plumbing is well insulated. An example is where your water line comes out of the ground and into the house.
- If you are concerned about freezing pipes let your water run just a little. It only takes a stream smaller than a pencil to prevent freezing.
- Open cabinet doors to allow heat to get around un-insulated pipes under sinks and appliances near exterior walls.

Freezing pipes can easily be prevented, we just have to remember to take steps to prevent them.

We remain closed to foot traffic

Under Oregon's stay-at-home order, we will continue to keep our doors closed to foot traffic. We will remain closed to foot traffic until Governor Brown has determined the state is in phase 3 of the guidelines for Opening Up America Again.

Our office will remain staffed from 8am to 4:30pm Monday—Friday. You can contact us at (541) 923-1041. You can also pay your bill at www.crrwater.com.
